

ANNOTATION

Specific research project titled "Preparation of military professionals of the ACR for a second career" focuses on analyzing the current state of preparation of military professionals for a second career in the Czech Republic and in selected countries of NATO.

The aim of the research is based on an international comparison and the results of a sociological survey to evaluate the attitude of current and former military professionals and selected organizations on the issue of a second career and design a methodology for the preparation and integration of military professional of Army of the Czech Republic to the labor market after the termination of military service.